HETV Opportunities Hub.com Feedback

Website

| | |
|---|---|
| Homepage | Let's replace the video with just a static image of a HETV set |
| Homepage - Hero Section | Remove the hyperlinks to Roles, Opportunities and Sign Up for Updates from the initial hero section. Visitors should first encounter the 'About Us' followed by our Production Culture Statement before being directed to other areas of the website. |
| Homepage - Hero Section | Remove the "View Live Roles", "Explore Opportunities" and "Sign Up For Updates" buttons from the hero section. These routes are already available through the main navigation, and we want users to move through the introductory content before being directed towards specific areas of the website.Please can you change "Scroll to enter the production" to "Scroll to enter the hub" and increase the size/prominence of this text so that it becomes a clearer call to action within the hero section. |
| Homepage - Signup | The "Sign Up" section looks great, but it feels too early in the user journey immediately after the hero section. Please move this section to the bottom of the homepage, after the FAQs, so users have had an opportunity to understand the Hub, its purpose and the types of roles and opportunities available before being prompted to sign up. |
| Homepage - Production Culture Statement | Once the "Sign Up for Updates" section has been moved, this should become the first substantive section after the hero. Please restructure this section so that it introduces the Hub first, followed by our Production Culture Statement.About Us (revised wording below)"Through this platform we provide opportunities to apply for full-time crew roles, HETV work experience, specific skills training, bespoke shadowing programs or simply to join our talent pool. All of these possibilities are advertised on this platform.Please sign up to XX to keep updated"Underneath the About Us copy, please introduce the Production Culture Statement as a separate sub-heading (e.g. using the orange styling to differentiate it from the main "About Us" heading).Production Culture Statement (revised wording below)Explore roles, work experience, training and development opportunities on Larkin 2, whether you're new to HETV or an experienced crew member. We're committed to increasing the awareness and opportunities on our productions through fair, inclusive recruitment and a respectful, supportive production culture, in the process creating opportunities for people at every level from every background.Please also remove the 'View Live Roles' hyperlink from this section. |

|---|---|
| Homepage - Roles and opportunities | Please can we change the blurb on the right to:-"Whether you're looking for a mid-level role, specific skills training or your first on-set experience, we provide three core areas of support: ..."It would be great if you could align this section more closely with the "Our Three Core Areas" framework used within our production onboarding materials, so there is consistency and familiarity between how people first encounter us through the website and what they see once they join a production.See below... |
| Roles & Opportunities: Crew Roles | Please change this to:Training CoursesHelping you build the skills and knowledge you need to work confidently and effectively on production and beyond.Please can 'Training Courses' be in the 60Forty orange.Please replace "Entry Point 01" with "Core Area 01".Please change the hyperlink to 'View courses'. (all capitalised) |
| Roles & Opportunities: Training Courses | Please change this to:Development ProgrammesProviding structured opportunities that support development at different career stages.Please can 'Development Programmes' be in the 60Forty orange.Please replace "Entry Point 02" with "Core Area 02".Please change the hyperlink to 'View programmes' (all capitalised) |
| Roles & Opportunities: Development Programmes | Please change this to:RecruitmentHelping you find paid roles across our productions that match your career level, skills and experience.Please can 'Recruitment' be in the 60Forty orange.Please replace "Entry Point 03" with "Core Area 03".Please change the hyperlink to 'View Live Roles' (all capitalised) |

|---|---|
| Homepage - Our Commitments | Rename this section “Our Commitment to You”. Amend the blurb to:"We believe in being open and transparent about how we work. Here are the commitments we make to everyone who engages with our Hub." as we can't control uncertainty but, we can commit to be transparent. |
| Homepage - Our Commitments | Please remove the automatic slideshow functionality from this section. The commitments currently transition too quickly, making it difficult to read and absorb the information. Let's allow users to move between the commitments manually, at their own pace, rather than having the slides advance automatically. |
| Commitment 1 | Amend the wording to:-“All advertised roles, work experience placements and shadowing programmes are paid.”I don’t think we need to mention training courses and industry events and that then sets an expectation. |
| Commitment 2 | Commitment 2: Let's lose this one as not all opportunities are posted on the side. Instead, please replace it with the below:Opportunities are Open for AllWe want everyone to feel welcome and supported when applying for opportunities on our productions. We are committed to making information available in alternative formats (such as Easy Read guides, which are available for all advertised roles) and providing additional support where needed.Please also replace the current image with one that better represents accessibility and inclusion, in keeping with the revised commitment. Nothing tokenistic. It should feel authentic. |
| Commitment 3 | Commitment 3: Let's change this to:Every application mattersWe aim to keep applications open for a minimum of five working days, allowing every applicant to put themselves forward. Every application received within the advertised application window will be shared with the relevant department for consideration. |
| Commitment 4 | Commitment 4: Retain the commitment around application timelines, but amend the wording to:Every role listing will tell you when applications close, when you can expect to hear back and when to assume your application has progressed |
| Commitments | For some reason on the screen reader I'm using to test it, not all of the text in the "Commitments" carousel is being read aloud, and not in the correct order. I don't know if that's something that can be changed in the carousel settings or if it's an issue with my screen reader. It's not a |

| | |
|---|---|
| | major issue but if there's any vital information in there you may want to rethink how you present it to avoid anything being missed. |
| FAQs | Please change the first FAQ response to:“Due to the volume of applications we receive, we’re unable to provide individual feedback” |
| FAQs | Please add a “View more FAQs” link beneath the questions currently displayed on the homepage, directing users to the full Frequently Asked Questions page.The FAQs should be similar to the ones on the current Larkin 2 website, bar one amend to the question: Why do some roles use an application form and others have a different way to apply?:-One of our commitments is to widen access to our industry and support consistent processes. With this, as well as the recruitment that takes place directly within departments, we also open up a number of roles in each department to a recruitment process, which has a clear application process and form. |
| Homepage - Footer | Please reorganise the footer navigation as follows:Explore* Production Culture Statement* Roles* Opportunities* Commitments* FAQsContact (change to 'Manage Hub Updates')* Sign Up for Updates* Unsubscribe* Contact UsLegalKeep as currently displayed. |
| Homepage - Footer | Please remove “© Larkin AV Limited” from the bottom of the footer. |
| Homepage - Header | Please could the header be listed as below:- About- Roles- Opportunities- Contact Us |
| Roles Page | The page looks great overall. However, it’s difficult to give feedback on the layout and user journey without seeing how an actual role will appear once published. Could you please add a mock role/listing so we can review how the page works with live content, including what users see when they click through to an individual role? |

|---|---|
| | Also, please reword the blurb to:-“Find jobs and career opportunities” |
| | |
| Opportunities page | Change wording to:Discover structured pathways and development programmes designed to open doors into High-End Television. Whether you are seeking your first credit or transitioning from other genres, explore our programmes. |
| Opportunities page | Rather than having ‘Roles’ and ‘Opportunities’, please could we have three separate pages that can be accessed from the header:-‘Roles’‘Development Programmes’‘Training Courses’This would also mirror the three areas we’ve introduced earlier on the site. Each page could then have its own blurb explaining what sits within it, using the wording we included on the homepage core areas. |
| Opportunities | In terms of feedback on the layout/use journey, we'll also need an example to review. |
| Homepage - Signup | As mentioned above, please move the “Sign Up for Updates” section so that it sits underneath the FAQs on the homepage. Please retain the orange design and replace the existing blurb with:Sign up to be notified when new roles and opportunities become available through the Hub. You can update your preferences at any time. |

| All pages | Some of the light grey text on the buff background: eg "Whether you are looking for your first set experience" could be higher contrast or the text made bold to improve legibility. |
